FOR GROWN-UPS AND TEENS

Today

Write a time on the left if it helps. One card per box. Tick it off when it's done.

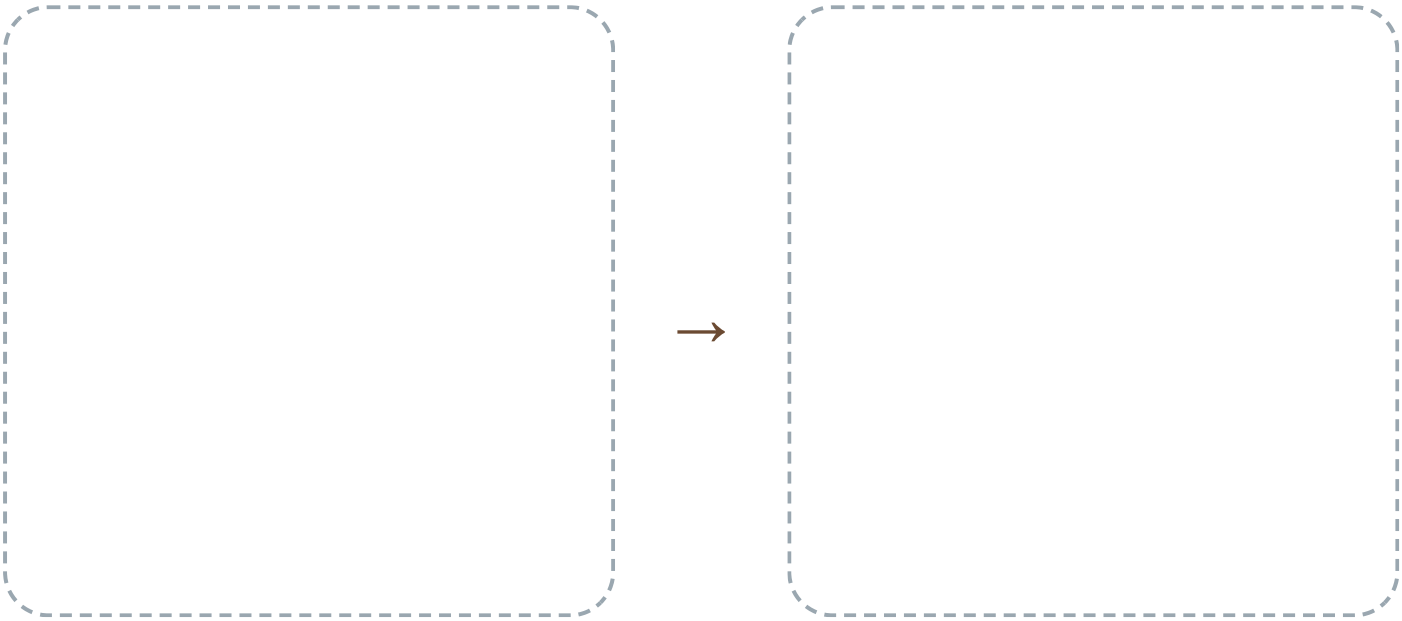

ONE THING AT A TIME

Now and next

Now

Next

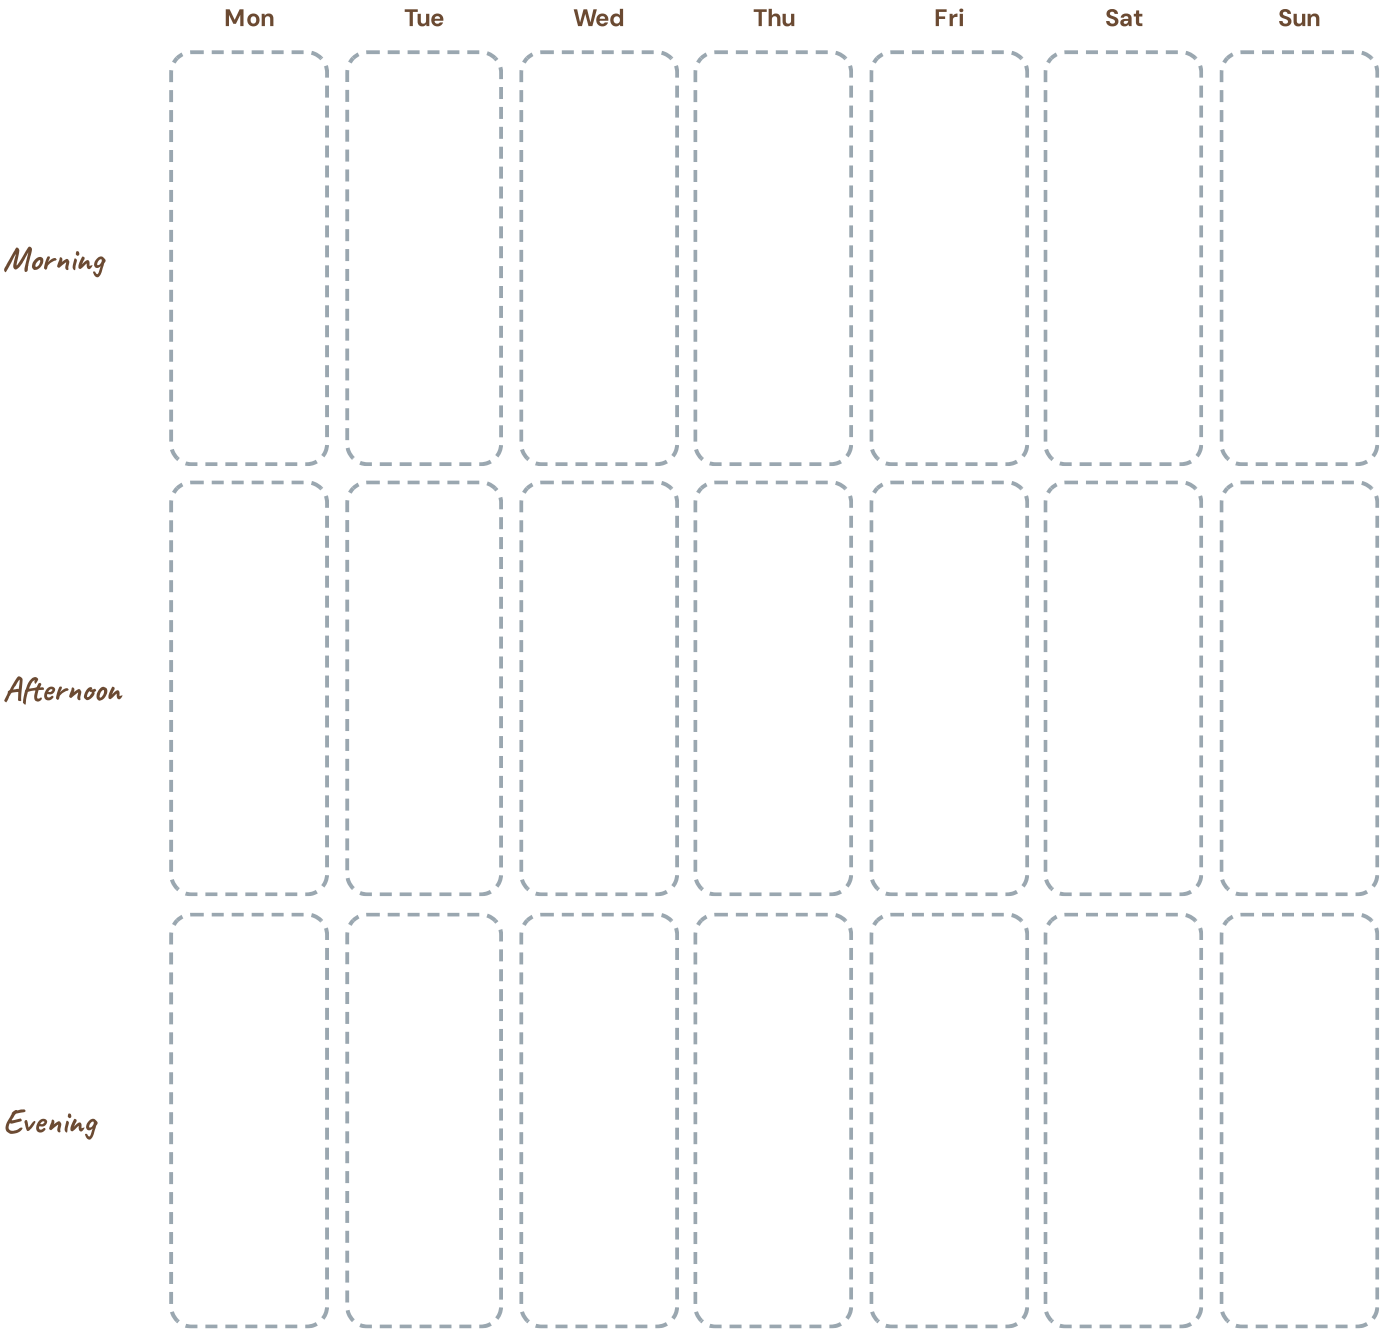

Some days the whole timetable is too much to look at. Use just two cards: what's happening now, and what's next.

TODAY IS

THE WHOLE WEEK

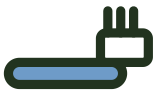

My week

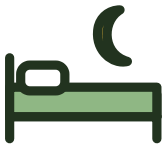

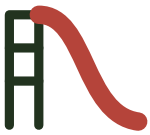

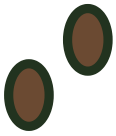

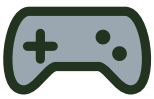

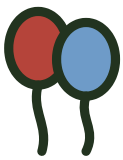

One card per box, or leave a box empty for a quiet one. A quiet day after a busy one helps.

I need a break

Show this card. Somewhere quiet, no questions, back when I'm ready.

I need help

HOW TO USE THE CARDS

A few tips

- Go through tomorrow's timetable the night before, and again in the morning.
- If plans change, change the cards and show the new order. A change on paper is easier than a change out loud.
- On a busy day, use the now and next board instead of the whole timetable.
- The week page helps with the bumpy bits: PE days, after-school clubs, visits and quiet days.
- Laminate the cards, or print them on card, and stick Velcro dots or Blu Tack on the back. They'll last for years.
- Share a set with school or nursery so home and school use the same pictures.
- The grown-up cards are for adults and teens who like their day laid out too. Nothing childish about it.
- The blank cards are for the things only your family does. Draw them or write them.
