A gentle guided journal for slow, honest reflection

FROG LOGIC OFFICIAL

How to use this

One prompt a day, in any order. Skip days freely — the pond will wait. Answer in a sentence or a page, whatever fits.

WEEK ONE — NOTICING

DAY 1
What does a "good day" actually look like for you right now — not what it's supposed to look like?

DAY 2
Name one thing your brain does that frustrates you, and one thing it does that you secretly admire.

DAY 3
When do you feel most like yourself? What's usually happening around you then?

DAY 4
What's a rule about productivity you've been following that you never actually agreed to?

DAY 5
Describe today's energy level as weather. What's the forecast for tomorrow?

DAY 6
What's something small you did today that deserves more credit than it got?

DAY 7
Write a note to yourself from a week ago. What would you want them to know?

WEEK TWO — SOFTENING

DAY 8
What's a comfort you reach for that you sometimes feel embarrassed about? Give it permission today.

DAY 9
What would you say to a friend who was being as hard on themself as you've been on you?

DAY 10
Describe a moment recently when you needed patience from someone. Did you get it? Did you give it to yourself?

DAY 11
What's one task you're avoiding, and what's the smallest possible first step?

DAY 12
What does your body need right now that you've been putting off giving it?

DAY 13
Write down three things that felt effortless this week, however small.

DAY 14
If today could end unfinished with no guilt attached, what would you let go of?

WEEK THREE — CONNECTING

DAY 15
Who in your life makes it easiest to be yourself? What do they do differently?

DAY 16
What's a boundary you've wanted to set but haven't yet? What's stopping you?

DAY 17

Describe a time someone misunderstood your intentions. What did you wish they knew instead?

DAY 18

What's something you mask around others that you could let show a little more?

DAY 19

Write about a friendship or relationship that feels easy right now. What makes it easy?

DAY 20

What do you wish people asked you more often?

DAY 21

When did you last ask for help? How did it go, and what would make it easier next time?

WEEK FOUR — LOOKING FORWARD

DAY 22

What's one small routine that's been genuinely helping lately, even if it's imperfect?

DAY 23

What's a version of "success" that's just yours, separate from what anyone else expects?

DAY 24

What's something you used to believe about yourself that you don't believe anymore?

DAY 25

Name one thing you're looking forward to, however small.

DAY 26

What does "enough" feel like in your body, versus what "not enough" feels like?

If your brain could send you one message this week, what would it say?

DAY 29
