Some days the whole timetable is too much to look at. Use just two cards: what's happening now, and what's next.

THE WHOLE HOLIDAY

My holiday week

One card per box, or leave a box empty for a quiet one. A quiet day after a busy one helps.

I need a break

Show this card. Somewhere quiet, no questions, back when I'm ready.

I need help

Show this card. Come closer, keep it calm, ask me yes or no.

FOR THE GROWN-UPS

How to use the pack

- Go through the day's timetable the night before, and again in the morning.
- If plans change, change the cards and show the new order. A surprise on paper is easier than a surprise out loud.
- On a big day, use the now and next board instead of the whole timetable.
- Plan quiet days into the holiday week. Rest is part of the plan, not a reward.
- Let the break card and the help card work without questions.
- Laminate the cards, or print them on card, and stick Velcro dots or Blu Tack on the back. They'll last for years.
- The blank cards are for the things only your family does. Draw them or write them.
